COURTESIES AT SEA.

Dipping the Flag Ranks Before the Booming of the Guns.

In the days before cannon and indeed until comparatively recent times a vessel made its salutation by lowering or "dipping" its flag. This is the oldest and most honorable greeting which a ship can give. It ranks before the booming of guns, however many.

This salute has always been demanded by English speaking seamen, and its execution has been the basis and the powder of generations of naval commanders. For a foreign ship, whether merchant or martial, to enter an English port without veiling topsails or dipping its national flag was to court the chances of war, although the profoundest peace existed. Without warning or argument the shore defenses or a man-of-war would send a round of shot across the bows or between the masts of the insolent intruder, and if the offending flag came not down instantly the foreigner was brought to her senses by being raked through and through. Such was the reception accorded by Sir John Hawkins in the sixteenth century to the Spanish admiral who in time of peace sailed into Portsmouth sound without veiling his topsails or lowering his flag.

Salutes are essential matters of naval etiquette and are exchanged under an elaborate code arranged between the powers. The number of guns to be fired under all conceivable circumstances is minutely stipulated.—New York Press.

THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET.

A Drink From the Well That Was Not Appreciated.

The girl accepted the glass of ice water with a frown in her words that went away beyond the manner of ordinary politeness. "Yes," she confessed, "I am deeply grateful. You don't know what a blessing it is to be able to get a drink out of a refrigerator—just open the door and take it out. You see, I've been visiting at one of those houses in the country where the poetic old oaken bucket still is on the job. Every time I wanted a drink I had to get a knife and a weight and a rope and a bucket and a cup. I dug the lid of the well up with the knife. Then I adjusted the weight on one side of the bucket so it would tip over and take in water when it hit the bottom. Then I drew up the bucket, took a cupful of water, coiled the rope, shut down the lid and put the knife away again. All that for just one little drink!"

"Once we went out driving. We found one well where we couldn't get the lid up. We found another where the rope was too short. I was just dying for a drink by that time, so one of the boys held another upside down in the well—by the legs, you know—and we dipped out a drink that way. Thank you, I'm very comfortable where I am. No oaken buckets for me, except in songs."—Kansas City Star.

Not For His Business.

"But they say," remarked the patron, "he has a good head for business."

"Nonsense!" replied the barber. "Why, he's absolutely bald."—Philadelphia Press.

One Thing Always Handy.

Husband (rummaging through a drawer)—Well, it's very strange; I can never find anything. Wife—You can always find fault, it seems to me.

WIGS AND BEARDS.

Bordered on the Grotesque in England in Queen Anne's Time.

At the restoration wigs began to be more generally worn, and in Queen Anne's reign they became the most costly item of gentlemen's wardrobes. Sir Richard Steele's "full, buttoned black wig" cost 50 guineas (about $255), and the fashion became so cumbersome that Colley Cibber when playing "The Fool of Fashion" to satirize the styles introduced a wig of wax so large that it was brought on the stage in a sedan chair. As a matter of fact, the stagecoach lines were compelled to restrict the length of wig boxes to three feet.

John Taylor, one of the English minor poets, thus depicts the beards of his day:

Some seem as they were starched and fine
Like to the bristles of an angry swine,
And some, to set their love's desire on edge,
Are cut and pruned like a quick set hedge:
Some like a spade, some like a fork, some square,
Some round, some mowed like stubble,
Some quite bare,
Some sharp stiletto fashioned, dagger-like
That may in whispering a man's eye out-pyke,
Some like a hammer cut or Roman T;
These beards extravagant reformed must
"be."
Some with the quadrate, some triangle
fashion,
Some circular, some oval in translation;
Some like a thick set for their crassitude;
Thus height, depth, breadth, triforium,
square, oval, round,
And rules geometrical in beards abound.
—National Magazine.

COLONIAL VIRGINIA.

The Haughty Planters Were Fierce Foes of Royal Tyranny.

In no part of the world were social distinctions more rigidly defined than in colonial Virginia. The founders of that colony stepped from the brilliant court of Elizabeth into the forests of Virginia. The lord-proprietor transported to his estate a little army of gentlemen and indentured servants, and afterward came the negro slave. Each formed a class apart from the others, and almost at once there was created a quasi system of aristocracy. The proprietor obligated himself to protect his tenants from the Indians. They in turn agreed to follow him to battle, precisely the system inaugurated by William the Conqueror for the military defense of his realm. His environment naturally bred certain habits of command, fostered a capacity for directing the efforts of others and imposed a sense of responsibility upon the planter for the lives that were in his keeping.

Above all else the planter jealously guarded his rights as an English freeman. When liberty languished in England the Virginian stoutly resisted every aggression of royal tyrants. One husband, one wife, one home, one king, one God—this was the planter's creed. But he reserved the right to renounce a monarch who violated the ancient compact between king and people. No other people numerically as unimportant as that group of Virginia settlers has given to humanity so many statesmen, soldiers, orators, patriots and philosophers.—Everybody's Magazine.

Baring the Feet at Worship. In India Hindus and Mussulmans alike wear both sandals and shoes (slippers) and the latter boots also, but the inviolable rule is to remove them after entering a private house just when stepping on to the mat or carpet on which the visitor takes his seat. They must be cast off, the right boot or shoe first, before the worshiper enters a temple or mosque, and it is still regarded as an absolute profanation to attempt to enter either fully shod. But the domestic habit arose out of its obvious propriety, and the religious ritual of "the shoes of the faithful" now and for centuries past observed throughout Islam, can be demonstrated to have been dictated by, if indeed it be not derived directly from, the universal social etiquette of the east.

Preparation. Guest—So your fellow keeper Page is going to be married, is he? Game-keeper—Aye, sir, that-a-be. He wor prayed for in church for the second time Sunday last.—London Mail.

Raising the Ante. Applying for a divorce, an old Georgia negro said to the judge: "Hit only cost me a string er fish ter git married, Jedge, but, please God, I'd give a whale ter git rid er her."

ASSESSMENT NOTICE. High Gravity United Oil Company. Location of principal place of business, San Francisco, California. Location of works, San Mateo County, California.

BLOCKADED

Every Household in Redwood City Should Know How to Resist It.

The back aches because the kidneys are blocked. Help the kidneys with their work! The back will ache no more. Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Redwood City. Mrs. A. H. Lanfer, Heller and Chestnut streets, Redwood City, Cal., says: "We consider Doan's Kidney Pills an excellent remedy and can give them the strongest recommendation. About three years ago they were first used in our family, when we lived in Buffalo, N. Y. Their use in my case brought prompt and positive relief from pain and lameness in the back and other distressing difficulties due to weak kidneys. To say the least, the results were gratifying. Another person in our household, who suffered from backache found Doan's Kidney Pills very effective and has used them off and on since then with good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

They have received a map of the proposed district and have gone over the territory with Mr. A. Neuber, superintendent of the Gas & Electric Co. By all means let there be light.

Fiend Again at Work
The dog poisoner is once more in our midst and this time he has sent several pet canines to their happy hunting grounds. Fannie Casey's beauty, "Bob," the winner of many ribbons, passed away Tuesday from the effects of poison administered in some meat. Mrs. Cheraghino's pet poodle, with a pedigree stretching from Dan to Bernabe, was put out of commission on the following day. Several other dogs were also poisoned. ASKS FOR RAISE AND GETS FIRED

City Council Hands Poundmaster a Great Big Lemon Instead of Slice of Public Pie.

For a time at least stray dogs may wander the streets of Redwood City without fear of molestation, for after the end of this month there is to be a great big vacancy in the important post of poundmaster and the activities of the dog catcher are to cease. For some weeks Poundmaster Cassie has made it apparent to the Trustees that he was not entirely with his job, or at least with the emoluments thereof. And now the Trustees have "come back" and it is evident to Poundmaster Cassie that the Trustees are not entirely satisfied with his work. This all came about because of a demand made a few weeks ago by Cassie for a raise in his salary. At the time of the presentation of the request for a "boost" the matter was referred to the finance committee, for consideration, apparently the smoothest way of passing up the question. However the matter was carried by a unanimous vote, and during a lull in the business at the meeting of the Council last Monday evening the all important subject—Cassie at least—was revived when Chairman Merrill asked Trustee Sampson whether he had considered the request of the poundmaster for an increase in his salary. To this Chairman Brown of the committee replied that he had not given it any thought. The Trustees then, but that he was ready to recommend that the position be declared vacant and followed the report with a motion that this action be taken. Remarkably this should have been done some time ago, Trustee Sampson seconded the motion, and after fixing the date for the deposition of the official for the end of the present month, the motion was carried by a unanimous vote, and thus the poor stray doggie was given another lease of life.

AID FOR THE ORPHANS

Native Sons and Daughters Are Preparing Big Show.

Probably the most enthusiastic entertainment, from a local standpoint, given in Redwood City this season will be the "Katzjammer Picnic" to take place at the Alhambra on Friday evening, the 30th instant. It is brimful of laughable situations, of songs and novel dances. There is such a wide range of specialties that everyone will be satisfied—not a dull moment from start to finish. With the two kids, Hans and Fritz, and Sis Hopkins, there will be plenty doing. Henry Beeger and Peter Christensen will take the part of the kids. They will be a great trio. Henry Jenkins as "Fadder" and Ralph Dodge as "Mudder" will make a big pair to draw in, and Mudder is practicing to get in shape to do the spanking act to perfection. The kids will have to do a great deal of stuffing to protect themselves from their merited punishments. Ten little people will put on a Quaker stunt that will carry the audience back to the early days of Pennsylvania. Mamma's China Twins will delight the audience and look very cute in their Oriental costumes. Ten of the prettiest young girls will do a sailor dance that will delight the audience.

Over a hundred people will be seen in this laughable extravaganza, and some of the most noted local luminaries with a bunch of topical jokes and songs will undoubtedly call forth unusual demonstrations from the audience. Mr. Landeshick will sing Petrie's famous Drinking Song in which he will be assisted by a chorus of 100 voices. Every one has heard and appreciated Charles Johnson's splendid voice and with such a large chorus the effect will be seen in this laughable extravaganza, more than pleasing.

The "Procks and Frills" especially given by eight high school girls will be alone worth the price of admission. All of the songs are new and up to date. The people in the play have to make a greater effort to keep their laughing themselves into fits than in the study of their lines. The "Picnic" has been described as one long laugh. There will be two solid hours of fun. The audience will have to watch very closely not to lose some of it as there is so much going on.

The songs are of an ensemble nature in which the whole company rattle Gipsy costume and appropriate Gipsy costumes and appropriate surroundings will sing "Gipsy John" with great effect, and with a large number of dancing girls, the whole chorus will enact a scene not unlike grand opera. The public is a cornucopia of good things and should not be missed. So sew your buttons on tight and get a front seat. Another howling feature will be the take-off on the Redwood City fire department.

FIRST FREIGHT TRAIN CROSSES DUMBARTON.
The first freight train crossed the Dumbarton bridge Monday afternoon and passed through this city into San Francisco. All of the eastern and northern freight to and from the metropolis will henceforth take this route and it is estimated that at least six additional trains will pass through town daily. The local station has been made a dispatch office and will hereafter be run the full twenty-four hours, two new men having been added to the force.

The citizens of Newark are getting up a monster celebration for the 24th instant in honor of the opening of the bridge and a delegation of boosters from this city with a band to take part in the festivities. The inevitable Dungee Park—baseball team is also scheduled to meet the Newark team on that day.

Leg Accidently Broken.
Mrs. Edward Bullivant met with a painful accident Sunday afternoon which resulted in the breaking of her left leg just above the ankle. Mrs. Bullivant was standing on the front porch of her home on Spruce street, leaning against the railing, which gave way precipitating her to the ground, a distance of nine feet. She struck on her shoulder, but strange to say her leg was injured, both bones being broken clean. Mrs. Bullivant was attended by Dr. Ross who felt that an operation may yet be necessary to remove splintered portions of the bones.

The recount of the democratic votes for the nomination of sheriff took place before Judge Dooling in the superior court Monday. The official count showed that P. H. McEvoy had won by 2 votes. At the recount Mansfield gained 15 and McEvoy gained 7, which gave the nomination to Mansfield by 6 votes. The count allowed the ballots marked by pencil to be counted and this accounts for the gains made by both contestants.

F. P. Gallardo, an old time lawyer who practiced in the state over fifty years is now in town during the week. BACHELORS ARRANGE FOR REVIVAL OF GYMNASIUM.
After a long and earnest endeavor, the Bachelor Club, composed of nine of Redwood's young men, has procured the gymnasium for the people of this city, it being turned over to them by the grammar school trustees after the supervisors had donated enough to replenish the apparatus and put the place in first class condition. They intend running the gym in the respectable manner that they have their many pleasant little hops of the last several months, to the end that young and old may derive a hearty benefit from it.

This is a large undertaking for them and they should be encouraged by enthusiastic attendances on the set nights for the different classes which will be given later. The grammar school and high school will be given certain afternoons in which to practice their several indoor games and exercises. Exhibition drills will be given from time to time to help pay the minor expenses of operating the gymnasium, such as water and lighting, and the club will give monthly dances to defray the cost of a piano which they intend using for marching and drilling as well as for the dances and exhibitions.

The club has started as though it meant business and it is hoped that Redwood will soon be able to boast of a well equipped gymnasium. The Bachelors bid a cordial welcome to every man, woman and child of the community who will join in helping the movement along.
